NOTES FROM CAMP KANAPE

The second period of camp life at Camp Kanape will end on Monday, August 2, and a new group of boys will replace those who are now having such a good time in camp. The boys of the second period have been doing good work both in their Scout studies and in general helpfulness about the camp. All the boys are working hard for more advanced rank than they now hold. Some have been working on Merit Badge work, but most of them are trying to pass tests for Tenderfoot, Second Class, or First Class rank. The classes in First Aid and Signaling have done some interesting work. Some of the boys have passed their swimming tests, some have been searching the woods for leaves for their tree study. All have been busy and happy.

On several afternoons the Scouts have taken interesting hikes to places of interest in the vicinity of the camp. They went one day to visit an ice cave near by, on another they blazed a new trail to the top of a near by mountain, and by degrees they have hardened themselves for the overnight hike to High Point which they are looking forward to at the end of this week. Judging by the number of visitors to the camp, it is one of the popular places in the country. Many of the visitors are relatives of boys in camp, but many of them come because of their general interest in the Scout work. On Sunday afternoon the camp grounds were full of crowds which had brought a great crowd of interested visitors to the camp from all parts of the county.

Mr. Dickinson, the scoutmaster from Marlborough, has been in the camp for several days. Mr. Seward, the scoutmaster in New Paltz, was in camp for a week. Both were very popular with the boys and were a great assistance to Mr. Matheson.

RELIGION VITAL

Souls American, Big Asset Says Roger W. Babson.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Boston, July 30.—Roger W. Babson, Wellesley Hills statistician, would like to see a festival of the custom of family prayers.

Babson is the first economist to come forward with the statement that human souls constitute America's greatest undeveloped resources.

"Too much credit is given both to capital and labor in the discussions of to-day," says Babson. "The real credit for most of the things we have is due to some human soul which supplied the faith which was the mainspring of the enterprise."

"It is absolutely impossible for any individual to develop the fundamentals of prosperity—faith, industry, integrity and brotherly kindness—without being successful. Twenty-five years from today, instead of the pastor being the head of the church and a few good people doing voluntary work, there will be four or five churches of one denomination united under one general manager. The churches will then be self-supporting. The days of beggary will be over. The need of the hour is not more legislation. The need of the hour is more religion."

"Much of the prosperity of this nation is due to the family prayers which were once held in the homes of our fathers. To a very large extent this custom has gone by. The custom of family prayers should be revived."

PEACH CROP

Leads All Short Season Tree Fruits in Shipments.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, July 30.—Peaches lead all other short-season tree fruits in the United States in the number of carloads shipped from producing regions annually, according to figures collected by the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Considering all fruits, peaches rank fourth in car lots sent to market, being surpassed by apples, oranges and watermelons. The approximate yearly average number of cars of the four fruits mentioned reaching market during the past four years are: Apples, 57,000; oranges, 35,000; watermelons, 29,000; peaches, 25,000.

The only close competitors of peaches on the market of the United States are grapes, of which about 22,000 carloads were shipped annually, and cantaloupes, the annual shipments of which were approximately 17,000 cars. The carloads of strawberries and pears shipped were slightly less than half those of peaches. An average of approximately 7,000 carloads of grapefruit and 3,000 cars of plums and prunes combined were shipped annually for the past four years.

This counterfeit is a photographic reproduction on the pieces of paper, between which silk threads have been distributed. The paper is thick and stiff. The treasury seal and number have been retouched. Much of the small lettering on the face of the note is indistinct. The back of the note has been drawn in ink, apparently with brush, but much of the photograph can be discerned in places where the green ink was not applied, and even through the green ink."

GRANGERS HIT BY CAR SHORTAGE

Ulster Park, July 30.—Ulster Grange, No. 969, held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening last. A large attendance was present and District Deputy C. R. Taber was present on his annual official visit.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Taber and their son. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. Much time was taken up with the discussion of the shortage of express cars to ship fruit in. Many current shippers have been seriously discommoded by this shortage. The new ruling of the express company to the effect that they will refuse to accept express shipments of less than 10 pounds weight was discussed. This will prove a hardship to grape shippers for the small baskets will have to be tied in bundles of 10 baskets each. Every member present promised to write the Interstate Commerce Commission protesting against this new law, and also asking for relief for cars in which to ship their produce. Every member of the Grange who was not present is asked at this time to cooperate in sending in letters to the commission.

A picnic committee was appointed at the meeting to arrange for the annual Grange picnic. Time and place will soon be announced.

WHISKEY SEIZED

Cohen And Others Find Much Booze In Amsterdam.

William Cohen of this city, one of the federal prohibition agents, figured in another raid this week when he with others seized $5,000 worth of moonshine whiskey and wine. The liquor and a complete cabaret were found on Tuesday afternoon in the rear of a paint shop of Pasquella Gatto, 285 Main street, Amsterdam. Gatto was arrested and placed under bail in $2,000. The place had been a mecca for Amsterdam's thirsty. There were five barrels of wine in the seizure. The liquor dealer was taken by surprise. Agent Cohen, followed by Amsterdam officials and other prohibition agents in Albany, entered Gatto's paint shop by the front door and found him busy with a painting job. They entered the rear and after close examination found the liquor, dozens of glasses, and a few tables concealed in the room. It is estimated that Gatto had cleaned up a neat sum through his alleged traffic in liquor. According to reports the moonshine whiskey was of unusually good quality and of high proof. Agent Cohen said that the case was one of the boldest yet encountered in the department's crusade against traffic in distilled spirits.

POLAND'S PLEA BEFORE COUNCIL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

San Sebastian, Spain, July 30.—Poland's plea for help to save the country from complete annihilation by the powerful army of soviet Russia was the chief question before the council of the league of nations when it met here today.

This was the eighth meeting of the council and the sessions will be held in the famous old city hall. Great Britain is represented by A. J. Balfour, former British foreign secretary; Italy by Tommaso Tittoni, former Italian premier; France by Leon Bourgeois, and Spain by Count Quinones de Leon. The United States is not participating in the meeting.

Poland's plea to the allies for help was not upon the original program when the meeting was arranged, but in view of the critical situation in eastern Europe, it was decided to take up the Polish crisis and discuss it first.

Besides Poland, the council will take up the following matters:

- 1.—German reparations and the admission of an inter-allied loan to assist delivery of German coal.
- 2.—Measures of blockade to be put in effect against any offending member of the league of nations.

SEEK TO BRING CRACK TEAM HERE

White Plains May be Here for Double Header Labor Day—Locals Had to Pay Guarantee Saturday Although There Was No Game.

An effort is being made to secure the fast White Plains baseball team for a double header with the Kingston team in this city on Labor Day. If this game can be arranged the fans of Kingston will have a chance to witness a top notch game, for the White Plains team is represented as a fast bunch of ball tossers. In order to bring the team to town on a holiday it will be necessary to put up a very large guarantee and unless the local fans give their support it would be impossible to break even on the financial end of the game.

Last Saturday the Phoenix A. C. team of Poughkeepsie came to town and as there was no game on account of the rain nothing was taken in, still the guarantee had to be paid by the local management. When the local management notified the Poughkeepsie players to come the weather was clear, the shower coming on just before the time for the game to be called. This has put the local team in a bad fix and unless the game tomorrow is well patronized by paying fans, the local team will be "in a hole." As the admission fee is very small every person who witnesses the game should be sport enough to give up their quarter to see real baseball such as the local team has been putting up during the past few games.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 20, 1920.

The New Republic a journal of perhaps rather too "liberal" leanings, is quite right in its reluctant conclusion that the American people have turned a deaf ear to the advocates of political upheaval and are in no mood to tolerate radical experiments in government.

Contrary to certain observers of a cynical turn of mind, matrimony is still immensely popular. A New Jersey man recently advertised for a housekeeper willing to become his wife by mutual agreement and in no time he was able to take his pick of a hundred applicants who crowded his premises, all looking and speaking their best. If his "ad" had not mentioned marriage, in all probability the response would have been both tardy and limited.

Dr. Frank Crane's daily newspaper preachment seems to have brought about something like mental exhaustion, if we are to judge from the following curious fling at evening clothes and the man who wears 'em: "No one could work in such a garment, and it is only worn because the poor simpleton inside of it, having heard that it is the badge of the gentleman, wishes to give the impression that he doesn't have to labor for his bread and butter." In the line of the hopelessly illogical and utterly fatuous, this is about the limit.

DEFYING POPULAR CLAMOR.

James Russell Lowell once lauded President Cleveland as a man who stood firm for what he regarded as his duty despite all imperious popular clamors. A man of a similar type in some respects seems to have come to the front in the case of Governor Clement of Vermont. He having stood like a rock against enormous pressure in his refusal to call an extra session of his State's legislature. Asked by many influential persons to call a special session of the Vermont legislature to ratify the suffrage amendment, Governor Clement has flatly refused to violate "a well established principle" for the sake of "party expediency." Undoubtedly the former is too often sacrificed for the sake of the latter, and obviously Governor Clement is right in refusing to call a special session if, as he asserts, such action would do violence to Vermont's constitution.

But in his explanation he raises a more doubtful question. He says the Constitution of the United States "as it stands and is interpreted by the Supreme Court today threatens the free foundations of popular government." adding: "We must now either remodel our own constitution to conform with the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States or the Constitution of the United States must be amended to provide for a referendum to the freemen of the several states before amendments to that constitution become effective." If the constitution of Vermont is in conflict with the Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the Supreme Court, obviously the former, not the latter, must be changed. For the latter is acknowledged to be the supreme law of the land. But Governor Clement, who is at least in doubt, seems to incline to the opinion that the constitution of Vermont is the superior law and demands his first loyalty. His attitude recalls the old time when the States regarded themselves as primary and the federal government which they created as secondary. When Governor Hancock of Massachusetts, for example, took the position that his office was of superior dignity and should have precedence to that of President Washington. It is needless to add that the growth of national sentiment during a century has long laid away such ideas upon dusty and almost forgotten shelves.

Governor Clement is very formidable, however, in his protest against the methods followed in the campaign for ratification of both the prohibition and suffrage amendments, and there is wide support of his demand for "a referendum to the freemen of the state" before amendments to the Federal Constitution become effective. Undoubtedly there is need of a constitutional amendment providing for such a referendum.

dum in the future. In the final solution of such great questions there ought to be a freer and more direct participation of the people themselves than is now possible under our existing system.

WARD GIVES NEW INSURANCE RULES

Congressman Ward, who represents this district, comprising Greene, Ulster, Columbia, Schoharie and Sullivan counties, calls former service men's attention to the treasury department decision effective July 1st, 1920, which gives new and liberal provisions for reinstatement of term (war time) insurance. The features of maximum interest to former service men provide reinstatement, or reinstatement and conversion, of lapsed or cancelled war risk (term) insurance under conditions substantially as follows:

First. In all cases the applicant must tender at least two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated, or reinstated and converted, with his application. Second. The applicant also must comply with the following requirements in reference to health to the satisfaction of the director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. When insurance lapsed or was cancelled prior to July 1, 1920, and when application is made within eighteen months succeeding the month of discharge or resignation, but prior to January 1, 1921.

The applicant must be in good health as at the date of discharge or resignation, or at the expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, and so state in his application.

The foregoing is an extremely liberal provision and presents an opportunity for a very large class of former service men to reinstate any time up to January 1, 1921, without a medical examination, by simply paying two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance they wish to reinstate and making their own statement of health with application.

On and after January 1, 1921, and prior to July 1, 1921, in cases where insurance lapsed or was cancelled prior to July 1, 1920, and regardless of how long applicant has been discharged.

The applicant must be in good health and shall forward for the consideration of the director a signed statement that he is in good health, and also a report of a full medical examination made at the applicant's expense, by a reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

Reinstatement or reinstatement and conversion of War Risk (term) insurance lapsed or cancelled on or after July 1, 1920.

(a). Within three calendar months including the calendar month for which the unpaid premium was due, provided that the applicant is in good health and so stated in his written application.

(b). After three months, including the calendar month for which the premium was due and within six calendar months provided that the applicant is in good health and so states in his application for reinstatement, and further, that he substantiates his application by a short medical certificate, made at the applicant's expense by a reputable physician.

(c). After six months, and within eighteen months, including the calendar month for which the unpaid premium was due, provided that the applicant is in good health and so states in his application for reinstatement and further provided that such application is substantiated by report of a full medical examination made at the applicant's expense by a reputable physician. Medical certificate to be on such forms as may be required by the bureau.

STINNES SINISTER GERMAN FORCE

By Telegram to The Freeman:
New York, July 20.—Stinnes the war one man has emerged like a peak above the German industrial flood. Herr Hugo Stinnes, whose insouciance at the Spa conference has re-awakened the curiosity with which for some months he has been regarded. Yet it became increasingly clear that if more had been known of him, the world would not have awaited the armistice before recognizing the growth of a new and dangerous force.

In February, 1919, the name of Stinnes was heard in the Reichstag when Herr Erzberger told the house how he had removed the great industrial leader from the sphere of the armistice commission because Stinnes was mainly responsible for the robbery of Belgian workshops, and because his influence at headquarters had induced the military authorities to undertake the deportation of Belgian workers. In June of this year Herr Breitscheid, one of the leaders of the Independent Socialists, was more informative still. It was Stinnes, he said, who advocated the deportation of Belgian laborers, carried out by Von Bissing, then governor-general of Belgium; it was Stinnes, the potent voice of the German captains of industry, who was responsible for the destruction of workshops in Belgium and northern France and the transportation of stolen machinery into Germany. Today it is an open secret in that country that Stinnes drew up the plan for the destruction of the French coal mines.

So much is known of the Stinnes who moved behind the manifestations of great general staff during the war. The post-armistice Stinnes is the same ruthless being, working now without a military screen. This Titan among the German minnows is not yet fifty. When he was twenty, it is related, he might have had a partnership in the family firm, but his thirst for mastery, his unbreakable belief in his own vision of success, pushed him to independence. Today he is drawing in riches from a greater variety of enterprises spread more widely over Germany than any merchant of them all, and he is ready for the day when the world beyond Germany shall be open to him again. He has control of fifteen groups of coal mines, extending even into France; his ore and metal interests in Germany and Luxembourg are colossal; six wholesale coal distribution enterprises are his; paper and pulp mills, a score of large shopping concerns, a celluloid manufactory, a hotel, textile and motor-car factories, dockyards, forest areas—how much more is not known.

As for the German press, it has been falling into his net since January last, when he and a certain Herr Hugenberg founded the Veritas Publishing Company with a view to "securing as many newspapers as possible, to subvert other interests." Stinnes bought up the printing firm which owned the semi-official German Gazette, which at the time of the revolution changed its name from Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung to Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. Then he reached out into South Germany and took the Munich and Augsburg Abend Zeitung, and one by one other publications were drawn in, until today he is believed to own or control nearly seventy. Ownership is not at all ways necessary to him, for he can dictate through the printing business he possesses. When he gave 20,000,000 marks for the great Buxtehude printing business he acquired the right to command the policy of a dozen newspapers. There is no section of Germany which today does not contain a publication sedulously propagating the ideas which Hugo Stinnes thinks well to support.

These ideas are utterly and stubbornly reactionary. In the vision of a new Germany which has come to Stinnes the place of authority is no longer held by the landholding nobles, with their hold upon the leadership of army and civil service, but by the industrial captains, the controllers of "big business," men who bring a fierce and unflagging energy to the service of inordinate ambition. It is still a Germany controlled by a few that Stinnes sees, and chief among the few himself. The German People's Party, which is the party of reaction, the party of revenge, knows Stinnes as its most important member. The ideas of that party, which are his ideas, are echoed and re-echoed by the newspapers he controls. The recovery, by whatever means, of German supremacy in the realm of commerce, as the certain preliminary to supremacy in all else—this is the force that moves the man. In the shameless destruction of French and Belgian factories, in the wanton lapping waste of French coal mines, he played his part during the war toward the weakening of competitors—the arrogant insolence of his behavior at Spa is the measure of the rage with which he and others of his kind would see this damage repaired.

THE PROOF

IT MAY COST PRECIOUS LIFE TO TRY TO CURE BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every excessive user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights valiantly for recuperation. As long as the heart is strong, it can do this, but, alas, before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pains. Heart is more important than lungs, and more important than stomach, therefore, some hearts will stand more wear than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart by inhaling a puff of smoking cigarette, a pipe or cigar or chewing tobacco is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the pleasure of a passing moment. He is indulging in a costly habit that the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere and he will tell you that using tobacco to excess is injurious to health. He will tell you to quit, but he is loath to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant. You may think you know how to quit, but much tobacco injures them—and to quit quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit of smoking or chewing tobacco, Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed.

The habit really quits you and its dependence is a pleasure equal to its indulgence.

If you want to know how much nicotine it is to quit the habit with Nicotol, you can find out how much without tobacco, and how great an effort it costs you, then begin using it at usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week decide whether you want to quit or not. If you are probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure.

NOTE: Dr. Osener, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, and whose statement is given above, to him of his statement to Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to our customers, they were told that it was truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, well ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer. We would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy produced unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by the largest drug store, the Connelly Drug Co. and Ten Branch Pharmacy.

LEROY DAWES' BODY ARRIVED

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence with the Rev. A. K. Fulton, pastor of the North Street Baptist Church and Chaplain Mable of the American Legion officiating. Burialment will be in Montrose Cemetery, where a firing squad of the Legion will pay final tribute to the dead soldier.

PONZI'S METHOD STILL A SECRET

Counterfeiting Reports Bothers Speculators in Get-Rich-Quick Man's Paper—Professors Have "No Nothing" on Him Yet—Reported Offer of $10,000,000 for Business.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Boston, July 30.—Speculators who have haunted the Alleys offering to take over Ponzi's securities exchange certificate, at sacrifice prices were disturbed today by the report that one of these certificates have been counterfeited and that sharpers hope to unload the fake paper. There can be no unloading of the counterfeits on Ponzi because no certificate is paid by the young financier until he has been identified.

Upon arriving from his Lexington home by motor car today, Ponzi found the auditor from the district attorney's office still at work on books. Officials agree, however, that thus far the auditor has been unable to unearth anything illegal.

A line of about fifty persons waited at the Alleys office today and there was little delay in paying them. Besides the county investigation, Attorney General Allen sent a state trooper under way today. The federal district attorney will also appoint an auditor to go over Ponzi's books.

Ponzi had an engagement late today with a New York financier, whose name was withheld, and who is said to have offered $10,000,000 for the Ponzi business. Ponzi said he was undecided whether to accept the offer.

Ponzi has paid out $140,000 in three days, it is said.

Boston authorities were mystified today by Ponzi's "get rich quick" methods, followed the announcement by Postmaster Patten of the New York post office to the effect that the entire world's supply of international reply coupons is not large enough to enable the young financier to become a multi-millionaire in a few months by juggling them.

Quickly following this statement came an announcement from post office officials at Washington, discrediting Ponzi's scheme if it is operated as he has outlined it.

West Park, July 30.—A double funeral for Webster and Jesse Jones who met with an auto accident on Sunday evening was held at the West Park Episcopal Church on Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Evans officiated. At the home, Father Anderson of the Order of the Holy Cross offered prayer and spoke very nicely of these two boys. Webster was killed instantly and Jesse died on Tuesday evening. Everything was done at St. Ann's Hospital to save Jesse's life. Both brothers belonged to the 77th Division and were thirteen months overseas. They left Camp Upton in March, 1918, and returned to their home here safely in May, 1919. Besides other relatives and a large circle of friends these two boys are survived by their parents, one sister, Mrs. Vincent Quinn, with whom they made their home and two brothers, Joseph, of this place, and William, of Hyde Park. Webster leaves two children, one boy, Webster, age 11, and Alice, age 8. Besides two grandmothers and one grandfather, the bearers were cousins of the two brothers. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Never before has this community of West Park witnessed anything so sad. The boys lay side by side in their home and now side by side in Highland cemetery. ## PLAY EXHIBIT FINE SUCCESS

Annual Exhibition and Athletic Meet of City Playgrounds Held Thursday Afternoon at Forsyth Park—Results of Athletic Meet.

The annual playground exhibition and athletic meet of the city playgrounds was held Thursday afternoon at Forsyth Park and attracted a good sized audience, who greatly enjoyed the fine program that had been arranged.

The playground exhibition consisted of games and playground activities, and showed some of the work being accomplished at the playgrounds. The folk dances were especially good.

The ball game between the girls of Forsyth Park and the girls of McVey's Field was won by the McVey Field girls by a score of 21 to 7. The downtown girls scored 14 runs in the last inning.

The athletic meet developed some good marks by the boy athletes, and gold silver and bronze medals were awarded the place winners in the various events. A summary of the meet follows:

75 Yard Dash.

First, Lehner, McVey's.
Second, Burger, Forsyth.
Third, Messinger, Forsyth.

Second heat:

Conclusion.
This exhibition of conversation in a very serious matter. There are now 141 members in the city's first world war. Mark this that I am going to say, for it is as good as a warning professional man's advice, and with you working. It is better to have a piece of bread from your own hands than to have a piece of bread from a man's hands. Nobody knows your own hands better than you do. Every body knows your own hands and never after the operation.

CRESCENTS AGAIN HERE SATURDAY

The Kingston baseball team will play the last Crescent L. C. team of Newburgh Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Field. This will be the second time these two teams have met this season. Since then the local boys have had considerable practice together, the team has been greatly strengthened and they are confident of winning tomorrow's game.

Kingston will use practically the same line-up as was used against the fast Mohave A. C. team of Poughkeepsie when Kingston won out in the eleventh inning after a hard fought contest.
